

INSIDE
HIGHER ED

Revamping Curriculum Management: Optimizing Academic Operations

An Inside Higher Ed webcast

May 12, 2022

2 p.m. Eastern

Presenters

- Scott Jaschik, editor, Inside Higher Ed,
scott.jaschik@insidehighered.com
- Doug Lederman, editor, Inside Higher Ed,
doug.lederman@insidehighered.com

Reforming the Curriculum

- The thrill of creating the means to teach students something new or in a new way.
- The danger of messing up a way of learning that has stood the test of time.
- The reality that financial considerations also matter.

Liberal Arts Meets Women's Leadership in Health

Credit: Salem College

End of Philosophy at Nebraska-Kearney

Credit: University of Nebraska at Kearney

A Military Appointment at Swarthmore

- To some, an important voice in society would be welcomed.
- To others, it was a slap at Swarthmore's pacifist history.

Diversity Goals and the Curriculum

- Adding to existing courses
- Creating new courses
- Instituting new requirements
- Facing legislative hurdles

Did Iowa State Compromise Too Much on Diversity?

--Sharon McCutcheon

What Will Happen in Florida?

Overview

The Florida Legislature passed House Bill 7 (HB 7) during the 2022 legislative session. It declares certain types of employee and student training and instruction to be discriminatory as a matter of state law. Senate Bill 2524, also passed during the 2022 legislative session, imposes large financial penalties on any university that violates the HB 7 requirements.

01/20

Small, Rural States

- Maine wants to train 700 students over three years.
- The students are spread throughout the state.
- Many of the students don't want online education or to leave home.

General Education

- At community colleges
- At four-year colleges

Q&A

- Your questions
- Your ideas for future coverage

With Thanks

Coursedog